SIDE EVENT

At the 16th Session of The Human Rights Council, Plan International invites you to an interactive panel session with experts on children working and/or living on the street with the participation of Youth from Bangladesh and Cameroon. We will also launch Plan's "Because I am a Girl report" and a thematic study.

Children working and/or living on the street

Prevention and protection – Girls migrate to cities because of different factors and are in need for protection in the cities.

Participation - Challenges on the streets and voices on how two youth working and/or living on the street from Bangladesh and West Africa wish to be treated and supported

Because I am a Girl – Launch of Plan's campaign, Girls' report and research on children working and/or living on the street

"One day I will have my own home and will have children. I will love them and give them what I was never given.",
Girl working and/or living on the street

Because
I am a Girl

Because I am a Girl is Plan's campaign to fight gender inequality, promote girls' rights and lift millions of girls out of poverty. Every year from 2007 to 2015 Plan will produce a report that looks at the different ways girls around the world are affected by discrimination.
