Introduction

‗WHO FEELS IT KNOWS IT‘, is our work - our first-hand report of what we found out in ‗ROAD TO GENEVA‘, a youth-led, action research project on the rights of children and youth in St. Lucia; from September 2009 - December 2011; by an NGO-Youth team: Youth of St. Lucia - with RISE (St. Lucia) Inc.; AIDS Action Foundation (AAF); National Youth Council (NYC); St. Lucia Planned Parenthood Association (SLPPA); National Council Of/For Persons With Disabilities (NCPD); St. Lucia Blind Welfare Association (SLBWA).

It feeds the 2011 NGO report on St. Lucia’s responses to the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UN CRC), and is the first one of its kind since our government’s acceptance of the UN CRC in 1993, and also the first report of any kind of the experiences of children and youth. It gives the views of this first-of-a-kind team and supports Article 12 of the UN CRC: children have a right to a say in all matters affecting them. We found that, while some steps have been taken in recent years, much work remains to be done, to encourage respect for children’s views and experiences and to truly involve them in matters of importance to them.

The children, youth and partners who took part in RTG and the writing of this report, hope that we offer a fresher look at the problems affecting children in St. Lucia, and new, more useful information to complement the new Government UN CRC report; and we look forward with anticipation to the UN CRC Committee’s observations and recommendations. We are also anxious to participate in the expected responses to these recommendations, to truly improve the lives of children. RTG team

Background

Everyone knows all is not well for children in St. Lucia!

Yet Child Rights (what children should get from adults to survive & thrive) is still not well known to the average St. Lucian. And even if a few know, there are new and more complicated rights violations than before - Internet pornography, child prostitution and trafficking. Add the frequent, confusing changes in laws and government policies, and the many, many children's services. You can well imagine the confusion facing the few children and youth who dare to even consider their own human rights. Most have never heard of the 20-year-old landmark document protecting these rights - the 1989 UN CRC - and no-one would know how to check the success of government in keeping its promise to honor it, because no real way exists yet.

The most widely agreed to children’s human rights instrument in history is practically unavailable to St. Lucian children and youth, except in theory. The UN adopted the CRC on 20th November 1989. It has been signed and ratified (legally endorsed) by 192 countries (except USA and Somalia) more quickly and by more governments than any other human rights treaty. It represents international, shared standards for all children’s well-being. It has the same meaning for children everywhere. While having common standards, it takes into account the different cultural, social, economic and political realities of individual countries so that each may seek its own way to honor it. It has 54 Articles and 4 guiding principles meant to help us understand it and guide implementation - Non-discrimination (Article 2); Best interests of the child (Article 3); Right to life, survival and development (Article 6); Views of the child (Article 12).

Countries should report every 5 years to the UN Committee on the Rights of the Child that checks how well their promises are kept, and says how to improve laws and policies for kids. St. Lucia signed in 1991 and ratified in 1993. The 1st report was sent in October 2004 and the interview and the following recommendations are on the UN website. The Committee also invites youth and NGO’s to report, but children and youth were not involved.

Despite talk of youth participation, there are only few opportunities for youth to be meaningfully involved in decisions that impact them. Most efforts are very superficial - children quickly gathered together to give the appearance only. Children are being noticed but not necessarily listened to. Education and public awareness on children’s rights is very patchy. Research on their experiences and their own awareness is poor. We are changing this. There is a space where children’s voices can be heard. The 2011 NGO report was prepared by Youth and NGO’s concerned with some aspect of care and protection of children. This is a summary of it.
How Was RTG Research Done?

It was an action-filled project with RTG team meetings; training in research; focus groups; field trips to gather info from: policymakers, practitioners, the public, children/youth in primary, secondary, special education schools; youth groups (Babonneau, Soufriere, Bellevue, Vieux Fort); Sir Arthur Lewis Community College; CARE; Upton Gardens’ Girls Centre; Boys Training Center; Community Child Health service.

I. Information-gathering methods:
   A. Review of child-related policies, practices, laws, human rights treaties and literature
   B. Youth-led Interviews (Government, Community, School):
      - Practice/ Policy-focused interviews e.g. teachers, social workers, nurses, Drs, NGO & government staff; other professionals in Ministries
      - Focus Group Community & School interviews with adults, children in care; children in conflict with the Law; children affected by violence, abuse; teen parents; the disabled
      - Field Trips - BTC; Upton Girls Centre; Community clinics; Bellevue youth group
   C. Youth Survey (see later) - Questions about children's rights and government’s track record in protecting them; designed with input from the youth, using themes: respect, freedom and civil rights, family and friends, health and safety, education, free time, and crime and UN CRC rights clusters: general measures of implementation; definition of child; general principles; civil rights & freedoms; family & alternative care; basic health & welfare; education, leisure & cultural activities; special protection measures.
   D. Website & Facebook Opinion corners

II. Youth Training workshops:
   - NGO partners background - mandates; activities; membership; youth opportunities
   - Child Rights in general; UN CRC principles; optional protocols; state obligations; monitoring/reporting process; St. Lucia’s 1st report and CRC Committee responses
   - Youth as Researchers - designing survey questions and carrying out interviews; ethics of social research; importance of confidentiality; Survey Instrument Design
   - Workshop Training in writing, radio, TV productions and techniques, ICT training

III. Youth Engagement strategies used to engage/ hold youth interest:

   - Informality - youth-centered approach, no formal adult models e.g. long sit-down meetings
• Flexibility - allowed youth to opt in or out as available; we used different venues such as Spinners Sports Bar/Club; schools; RISE office

• Variety - widest range of youth - School visits; Focus groups; Questionnaire; Media

• Equality, Diversity, Inclusion - as full a range of views as possible; traditionally hard-to-reach youth (e.g. in custody or care) unheard (e.g very young; disabled) and ‘middle of the road, normal but not normally involved’ youth;

• Reality checks - e.g. live testimonials from youth in custody and other experiences

• Action the last thing young people want is more talk so we aimed to ensure touchable outcomes wherever possible, if not, feedback was given to say why not

• Use of ICTs & Social networking - Text messages; meeting youth in their spaces to enhance our reach - RISE Google page; Facebook pages; RISE website;
Demographics Age 11-17 (580 respondents)

What did they say? Youth Voices

What would make your life better? Many youth responded that if they worked hard, got a good education and stayed away from violence, their life would be better. And a few said that they are happy with their lives just as they are. Highlights of the responses include:

- "Stop crime"
- "that in st.Lucia they would have less violence and more educational opportunities."
- "My life would be better if I was getting better grades in school."
"If there was no crime, no preference and more love in this country."
"I think that if my life would be better if St. Lucia was free from violence"
"If there were more clubs in my area"
"Financial aid to further my education"
"More job opportunities"
"More extra curricular activities in my community"
"To be treated with respect and equality by other people."
"Well just entertaining us by having talk shows, activities to enlighten the youth cause being a youth is nice but also frustrating. Thank you."
"Finish secondary school with I's and distinctions and attend "A" level"
'Things that would make my life better: If my parents were not so financially stressed and it may be easier for me and would have probably done so much better."
"What would make my life better is knowing that I can walk on the street and know I am safe."
"I think the life I have now is good, so I am not thinking of a better one more than this."
"The thing that would make my life better is for me to get a good education and a good job."
"My learning would be better life if there are more learning activities to keep me from trouble."
"Nothing"
"To make my life better I would read more books to become more knowledgeable"
"The thing that will make my life better is to take a good health in my work and take my work seriously."
"Build places where we might be occupied like a court, field, tennis court so we could be safe from violence."
"Less violence and quarreling"
"Knowing that I live in a safe environment and that when I walk on the streets a stray bullet won’t knock me down. Or if the flogging of students is banned because some teachers are abusive and harm the youth."
"A decrease in discrimination when it comes to skin colours."
"My life is already good as is: there is not anything to make my life better."
"Staying away from crime and quarreling will make my life better"
"Education would make my life a lot better"
"Peace in St. Lucia would make my life better."
"A change in young people from negative to positive. They make choices and try to run form the consequences"
"My life would be better with a safer St. Lucia, with a St. Lucia where one could feel safe at their house, where one could walk the streets at any time and not have to keep turning back to make sure nobody is following you, when you could trust people to stay at your house and not worry about them stealing your valuables. I want the old St. Lucia back. The Saint Lucia filled with peace, love, cooperation and prayer.
"My life would be better if St. Lucia was providing jobs"

A Day In The Life Of 17 yr old Sheldon “Upon waking up in the morning, I say my daily prayers to the Lord above. My dad places me on my wheelchair and wheels me to the living room. He feeds me breakfast and brushes my teeth. At 9am he places me on the sofa to watch a television programme or a movie. At approximately 12pm, my dad serves me lunch and I listen to the lunch-time news. Following the news, I watch TV for the rest of the day. I may fall asleep on the sofa or in my room. Then, I have supper and watch the evening news on HTS, since this is the only available channel to me. I may watch a movie or a comedy show and then retire for the night…….I am a 17 year old youth with an active mind, and I will do the very same things tomorrow.” S. N

My Story

You see me smile
You see me laugh
Playing with my friends
And having lots of fun
But if you look closer
You see my tears
My hunger, my daily fight
I'm young, but I have needs
As the days go by, I dream
That you will wipe my tears and Give me reasons to believe
Don't think I'm too young
To speak
Listen to my plight
And though I am a child
I have rights

A poem: MILLET for Keith Nicholas

A whole heap of milk
Flowing through the cover
Of the book about silk
Where we then discover
That the teacher was beating
The children with a belt
Whenever caught cheating
That's justice the way he felt.
In his hands how he holds
The world's future sky
Today he only cuckold
To make our children cry.
Far from Mummy's breasts
Enforcing the punishment
The verdict vivid now rests
In the arms of Government

The postman rang twice
The TV News was hot
Police weren't very nice
The cows had no doubt. G.S.

If you could say anything to the adults and leaders of St. Lucia about children, what would it be?

- No discipline
- Stop beating children
- Don’t abuse the children
- Give the children what they want
- Help children a lot more, be more supportive
- Proper manners
- In order to be respected, you must respect children
- Food, shelter and clothing
- Protect your children and treat them with respect
- Care more for themselves
- Provide them with their needs, wants and shelter
- Treat them good
- Be kind and faithful, respect others opinions
- More respect
- Give them enough love so they won’t express anger on other children that have enough love
- First help the parents going through problems with their husbands, so that they don’t pass the anger onto their children
Research Findings

A review of the past 5 years, since St. Lucia’s 1st UN CRC report, from the perspective of the rights of the child, gives a general impression of poor response to the UN’s recommendations. The RTG youth researchers learnt from youth:

Some not so good things:

- 30% said that adults rarely or never take young people’s opinions into consideration when it comes to youth issues in St. Lucia.
- 38% said that the government of St. Lucia rarely or never does things to ensure everyone knows the rights of children.
- Nearly 1/3 said they don’t know if the government of St. Lucia or another organization will help them if in trouble and their family can’t help.
- Nearly 70% feel young people in St. Lucia are sometimes or always discriminated against because of lifestyle choices (dress style, religion, other activities or interests).
- 86% said that physical punishment is used on students at their school.
- More than 1 in 5 don’t know if they are safe from being kidnapped from their home, school or community.
- 66% of youth say they drink alcohol.
- Just over 1 in 4 report they have access to illegal drugs (marijuana, cocaine, etc.).
- 1 in 10 feel they are never safe from sexual abuse; 16% don’t know if they are safe.

Some cool things:

- 69% sometimes or always felt safe expressing beliefs and ideas (political, religious, cultural, etc.) through art, speaking, and writing without fear of discrimination.
- 9 in 10 report they can sometimes or always participate in clubs, sports, music, drama.
- 84% report that they sometimes or always have the opportunity to go to school and learn regardless of their physical and mental abilities.
Over half report that they sometimes or always solve conflicts in their school, home, or community without violence.

Over 90% say they can sometimes or always get medical care when sick.

Over 90% always have food, clothes and a safe place to live.

Sir Arthur Lewis Community College—August 4, 2010 2 male, 3 female; ages 18-25 yrs

What is the right to an education and what does it mean to you?
- I think education is very important and without it one cannot secure a successful life where they can achieve their goals and help the youth. (F 18)
- Education is a very important ingredient for a successful future. Education when applied in the right manner it can move life and standard of living to a higher level. (M 25)
- Education is essential to one having a successful and better future. Education is like bringing new life to an individual, without education it’s like we’re left in the dark, helping you move forward, broadening your intellectual capability in having an ignorant free future. (M 21)
- Everyone should be allowed to gain an education no matter what. (F age unknown)
- There should be no discrimination when it comes to education (F age unknown)

Going through this (IIT Scholarship) process, has your opinion changed in any way?
- No (F 18)
- Not really (M 25)
- Well before I just saw it as going back to school, but it’s far more than that; it’s opening a pipe line for more St. Lucians, doing something new for the country, education the nation with the skills we acquire when we complete our studies. (M 21)
- Sort of, I realised that there’s a lot more to it. (F age unknown)
- I have gained more knowledge about my rights. (F age unknown)

Do you feel supported in pursuing education in St. Lucia?
- Yes (F 18)
- Now, Yes (M 25)
- Yes (M 21)
Not really, the financial situation is hard. (F age unknown)
I feel supported by the people but not so much by the government. They need to step up to assist and represent us as students. (F age unknown)

What does this scholarship opportunity mean to you?
- It means a great deal to me. (F 18)
- It means a lot because there are smart and determined individuals out there who do not have the finance needed to further their education. (M 25)
- It's a chance to help those who are not financially able and the country will be of great benefit when these students come back to give what they have learnt. (M 21)
- I can realise my dream of being a biomedical engineer thanks to this. (F age unknown)
- This has paved the road for those to come. (F age unknown)

How did you find out about this opportunity and other educational opportunities in general?
- I found out about it when it was announced on television. (F 18)
- By friends and also newspaper. (M 25)
- By friends and talk show "TALK." (M 21)
- By email and working in government (F age unknown)

Some Adult Key Informants said:

What do you think St. Lucia is doing well:

...for young children living with HIV? (Pediatrician)
- Provision of free medications (ARV's) and testing
- Access to free screening
- Education and public awareness as regards prevention
- Some provision of milk substitutes for feeding infants

...for children with disabilities? (Child Development Specialist)
- decent access to healthcare in the rural areas once a month, but this is insufficient
- beginning to see the need to support the services
- parents are actively counselled in the therapy sessions with their children, so they feel that their child is special and is being treated in that way

What is St. Lucia not doing well currently:

...for young children living with HIV? (Pediatrician)
- no clear continuity or sustainability of HIV driven cure and treatment programmes
- limited access to competent psychosocial services and social support
- Limited continuity of care for youth in custody and adolescent services in general

...for children with disabilities? (Child Development Specialist)
- access to healthcare is a major problem, especially ones that are wheelchair bound.
- the government perceives therapy services as 'extra' and not primary/basic healthcare
- still some stigma and discrimination towards disabled persons
- persons often blame the parents for doing something wrong during the pregnancy
- different myths in society like 'he'll grow out of it' also contribute to late identification

CONCLUSIONS & RECOMMENDATIONS

Child Rights is still a strange concept to the average St. Lucian despite the fact that the 1989 United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UN CRC) is now 22 years old. The most comprehensive, most widely agreed to, child rights protection in history is still practically unavailable to St. Lucian children and youth, except in theory. The major challenges to child rights include: their meaningful participation, protection from abuse, help for those with special needs, respect for children and youth.

The RTG group of NGOs - RISE (St. Lucia) Inc; Aids Action Foundation (AAF); National Youth Council (NYC); St. Lucia Planned Parenthood Association (SLPPA; National Council of/for Persons with Disabilities (NCPD); St. Lucia Blind Welfare Association - all concerned with some aspect of care and protection of children, and recognizing youth participation as their right under the CRC, have combined resources and expertise to engage children and youth in this critical process to discover from their peers just how well, or not, children and young people’s human rights are being realized in St. Lucia. We anticipate that this youth involvement will be sustained into the future and institutionalized as recommended by the UN CRC, and we hope that this NGO-Youth coalition can be formalized into the long-overdue mechanism for monitoring and recording of St. Lucia's UN CRC implementation efforts. While the coalition has tried to be independent in our processes and procedures, our ultimate achievement will be measured by the synergy we succeed in creating with the various institutions concerned with children's welfare; thus promoting the long term improvement of child rights protection in St. Lucia.

We, the Road to Geneva NGO-Youth Child Rights & Advocacy Coalition, recommend that:

for a child, think like a child, ACT SIMPLY & NOW!

For Child Protection: Offer better, more easy-to-reach support to ALL children and families and especially those at risk or in trouble:
* Ensure social services are adequate to meet the obligations to children by establishing immediately a seven-day, twenty-four hour service for children in crisis
* Operate Child Abuse Hotline all the time (24 hrs/7 days) using a cell phone and on-call rota
* Increase the #of trained Social Workers in the Division of Human Services & Family Affairs
* Open the overdue Transit-home for children
* Provide teams of all professionals needed to deliver prevention and therapy services within the existing clinics of the Community Child Health Service, moving away from crisis intervention
* Offer greater support to Foster-carers and to the Foster care & Adoption program in general
* Advertise and enforce the Mandatory Reporting of child abuse section in new Criminal Code
* Ban Corporal Punishment in schools and institutions IMMEDIATELY; and start a Positive Discipline campaign with a view to extending the ban to homes
For Child Poverty
* ensure that children in need are rapidly identified; e.g. even from before birth
* fast-track the welfare system help for these identified children

For Youth Justice
* give children ages 16-18 yrs the same protection and guarantees as younger ones
* Establish an independent, national Guardian ad Litem service
* fast forward Constitutional reform to give express recognition to children’s rights

For Health
*Develop the Child & Adolescent Mental Health team with a community-based range of prevention, early intervention and treatment supports and services for children and young people with mental health difficulties.
* Start the Extended Early Childhood health Outreach program (EECHO)

For Education
* Develop an integrated, universal, high-quality Early Childhood care and education system.

In General – Respect children and young people more

The RTG Coalition's overall conclusion is that while some positive steps have been taken in the 5 years since the St. Lucia government's 1st UN CRC report, much work remains to be done to realize the many promises meant by our signing of the UN CRC. The UN CRC promises children help NOW. Throughout the government’s report, we recognize a repeating theme in all the very good government plans for children - the ‘adult agenda’. Thank you, but unfortunately this takes too much time….time during which entire childhoods are lost. RTG Coalition
